

Beauty Secrets of the Rich and Famous – Yoga for Your Face

Ever wake up in the morning with frown lines and more wrinkles than you went to bed with?

Continual repetitive motions such as frowning, squinting, smiling, etc. cause damage to the facial tissue supporting the epidermis. Over time, this damage deepens and cells in some areas of the wrinkle, making it easier for the muscle to press the skin together. Cells in other areas build up and cause heavy sagging at the deepest part of the wrinkle.

It's never too late to help rid the face of deep lines and wrinkles.

Hollywood's Favorite Beauty and Well Being Secret. Frownies Facial Pads have been taking years off famous faces for more than 100 years. Now all of us can use these all-natural pads to dramatically smooth our skin.

Frownies are a chemical-free method of holding facial muscles in place. Frownies act as a splint to create better facial posture. It trains the muscles to relax which smooths the skin and softens lines. Unlike products which use toxic chemicals or injections that paralyze the muscle, Frownies are strictly mechanical in nature. Much like "Yoga for the face," Frownies hold posture and reshape the muscle. Wrinkle-ridding results in 2-4 weeks of usage while you sleep!

Frownies Facial Pads work by harnessing the facial muscles and holding them back in their proper place, thus helping them regain the strength and tone lost through fatigue, tension, aging and sun exposure. They also help the user to become aware of facial expressions - such as squinting or grimacing - which can make lines and wrinkles worse. They are applied to the forehead, corners of the eyes and mouth.

Eminent French and American dermatologists support the Frownies approach to tackling the problem of facial lines. Made of unbleached paper with a vegetable-based adhesive, they work like a splint to hold your facial muscles in a smooth position, essentially “training” crow’s feet, fine lines, and nasolabial lines to relax.

Marvin Westmore, a Hollywood makeup artist since 1958, estimates that 10 percent of the age-40-and-older actresses and actors he has worked with have used Frownies.

Most people will see visible improvement overnight and continual use is the key to lasting results. Frownies motto is "Keep in Sight - Use Every Night" and in so doing, one can be assured of lasting results in 3 to 4 weeks.

Frownies is featured in New York Times, The View on ABC, O Magazine (USA) and Daily Mirror (UK).

Frownies Facial Pads is the natural and safe alternative to Botox. Renee Russo, Glenn Close and Meryl Streep know the secret of Frownies and use them regularly. Now you can share the fabulous results of this product, too.
